

RIAALAW and Barker Gillette LLP merge to give global reach

The formation of RIAA Barker Gillette ushers in a whole new era for both firms. The alliance will create a significant corporate and dispute resolution practice with a presence in ten cities from New York to Beijing.

Having worked closely for many years, the decision was made to formalise the relationship between the two firms and bring together the vast experience and expertise of both, providing a co-ordinated and global legal service.

With a significant presence in USA, UAE, Pakistan, Afghanistan and China, RIAALAW brings to the alliance its expertise in project finance, M&A, banking and corporate finance, intellectual property, international trade, and dispute resolution, with specific industry focus on energy, telecommunications, infrastructure, mining and healthcare sectors.

Barker Gillette LLP, incorporating Lucas McMullan Jacobs, is a high profile UK based practice with specific expertise in the fields of company and commercial law; dispute resolution and commercial litigation; commercial and residential property; employment law; private client; matrimonial law; sports law and crime/serious fraud.

Together they give clients a highly personal, formidably resourced legal capability in a significant number of jurisdictions across the world.
